SUSTAINABILITY AND DOING THINGS PROPERLY ARE TWO SIDES OF THE SAME COIN

At ID® we are known for delivering high quality. It is very important to us that we do things properly. Quality craftsmanship, keeping our promises and treating others with respect. This has proven to be a good path and the result has become high quality at every step – something both we and our customers are very satisfied with.

We have watched the industry develop over 30 years. We have also developed and adapted – but always in line with our values. This has proven to work in the long term, even in a changeable world.

When consumers began to expect more ethical and environmentally friendly production, this meant new conditions and major changes for many textile companies. At ID®, we simply continued on the path we had already taken. If you do things properly, you are well on your way to sustainability. We are therefore able to document consideration for people and the environment through a number of certifications – and as you can read on page 12, we are not stopping there.

You can call it doing things properly, or quality. We are proud to be able to deliver well-designed and durable products – precisely when and where our customers need them.

Welcome to ID® Identity.

CSR flows from action, not words

CSR is about taking responsibility for a company's impacts on people and the environment. In a new partnership with Bureau Veritas ID® has taken CSR to a new level.

Our company was founded more than three decades ago. People did not talk about CSR back then, but from the beginning we knew we wanted to be a supplier that did things properly – and hence responsibly – irrespective of where in the world our goods were produced.

This approach has given us a reputation as one of the best in the industry at delivering high quality, well-designed and durable products. And we will continue to do so. In our experience there are always customers who understand the value of quality – and one of these is sustainability. A good product which lasts a long time is far more ethical and environmentally friendly than a throw away product. This makes our contribution to sustainability very concrete and effective, as it is integrated into everything we do – every day.

Raising the bar with Bureau Veritas

ID® has attained OEKO-TEX® certification, and has been a member of BSCI for many years. ID® also works with CSR based on the 10 principles in the UN global compact, which promote human rights, the environment and anticorruption.

Yet we wanted to add something more which could further raise our standards for quality, environment and ethical considerations. We therefore initiated a partnership with Bureau Veritas in 2015. This has led to a revised version of our quality manual, which includes input from the Danish Technological Institute. This manual is not a declaration of intent, but a tool which has already been put to use. It is divided into seven sections containing specific requirements for suppliers' processes and the products they deliver to us. Each section contains detailed but comprehensible

OEKO-TEX®

OEKO-TEX® guarantees 'healthy' clothes

The OEKO-TEX® certification guarantees that clothing contains no harmful substances. Clothing carrying the OEKO-TEX® label meets requirements for pH value and levels of harmful substances, such as pesticides and heavy metals. ID® offers a large selection of OEKO-TEX® labelled products.

follow-up tools, which are significantly improving our efforts. The manual is targeted at the people who have to work within this framework. We were determined to give our business partners a practical tool. One that set reasonable requirements for their efforts, and was realistic to implement. Ultimately it is only the intentions which are translated into action that count!

More audits – better documentation

The total number of visits to our partners from third party organisations has more than doubled in just two years. This has had a positive effect on the factories' performance, and since BSCI adjusts follow-up initiatives to match the need, these have been correspondingly reduced. However, our partnership with Bureau Veritas ensures that we continue to maintain and retain our follow-up, so that the BSCI Code of Conduct is observed. The new manual is supplemented by even more audits at our partners' factories, in which Bureau Veritas participates. This ensures detailed control, better follow-up and more thorough and current documentation. We have also incorporated more stringent requirements on the use of various chemicals and cleaner technology in production processes – known as BAT (Best Available Techniques).

BUREAU VERITAS

The Bureau Veritas group is one of today's largest companies in the world within inspection, classification, counseling and certification. They supply services of high quality to help their customers comply with the increasing demands on quality, safety, environmental protection and social responsibility.

Move Forward with Confidence

BSCI

ID® is a member of BSCI. BSCI (Business Social Compliance Initiative) is a network of 750 European companies which has formulated a set of common ethical principles for purchasing and production in non-EU countries. This means production where there is no child labour, forced labour or any form of discrimination, the guarantee of a safe working environment and reasonable wages and working hours. The rules also carefully consider the environment.

ID[®] 10 Principles

ID[®] takes its responsibility as a clothing manufacturer seriously. We have therefore formulated a 'Code of Conduct' that states exactly what we require of our suppliers and partners. You can have a clear conscience when you do business with us – and when dealing with your customers you can confidently recommend our products as ethically responsible. Based on the UN Global Compact.

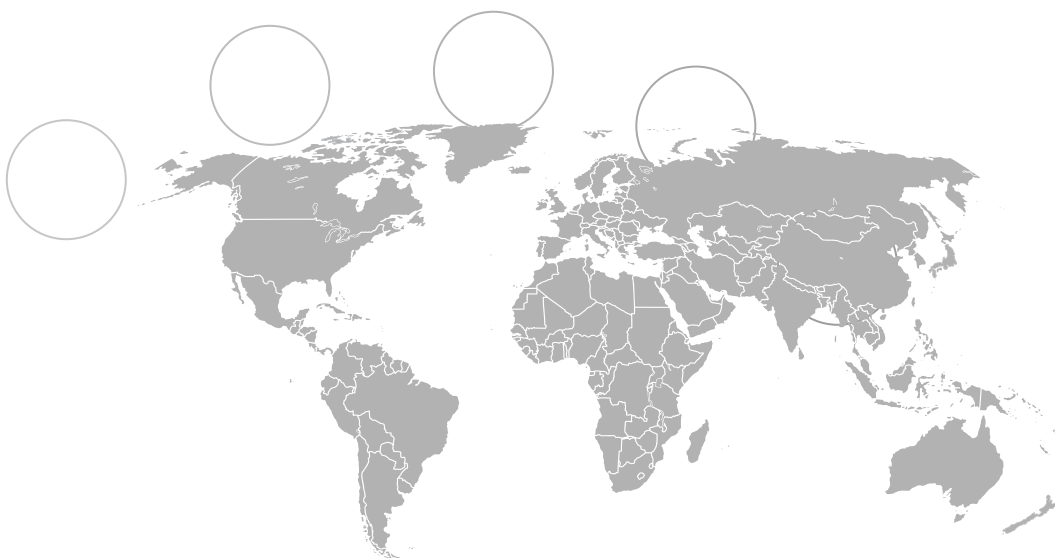

Partners in Bangladesh

Responsible textile production is not about geography. We began production in countries like Bangladesh in the 80s, and have continually developed our collaboration with our partners there. The close dialogue and mutual loyalty has made it possible to implement very high requirements in relation to quality, the environment and working conditions.

From the beginning ID® has only had production at factories we have personally visited. In 2006 we went one step further and established an office in Dhaka, Bangladesh, so we could be present at our producers' on a weekly basis. This gives us a detailed knowledge of the factories' working conditions and quality level, and strengthens relationships with our partners.

Our other suppliers work in line with the same directions as our partners in Bangladesh. They have also received the quality manual and signed the requirements in the seven sections. This entails sending us inspection reports, conducting BSCI audits and being visited by Bureau Veritas, among other initiatives.

We have a clear and constant focus on CSR and quality. We strive to always be one step ahead of our customers' requirements and expectations – and never deviate from our own principle of doing things properly.

USE IT OFTEN – USE IT WELL
